CLARIFICATION

Raising the concern of the British-Bangladeshi nationals regarding recently reviewed fees for all consular services, including NVR, rendered by the Government of Bangladesh

The concerned authority in Bangladesh [Ministry of Home Affairs] has recently (04 December 2024) reviewed fees for all consular services, including NVR (from $50 to $80 equivalent to £46 to £70), rendered by the Government of Bangladesh, which is applicable for all Bangladeshi origin foreign nationals across the globe. This may please be noted that last such revision of consular fees had been done in 2011, hence a review has long been overdue. As regards the comparison between the fee of NVR and that of a tourist and other visas ranging from £105 (upto 6 months) to £695 (5 years), you may please note that the NVR remains valid as long as the passport continues to be valid (10 years).

The official Website of the Ministry of Home Affairs, Dhaka in this connection may kindly be browsed for further clarification:

Under these circumstances, all of your kind consideration is earnestly solicited. We assure all respected and dear British-Bangladeshi nationals of the Bangladesh High Commission's best consideration always.
